

K-Love radio is something that I listen to everyday and which enriches my life in ways that are too numerous to count. It is the only thing that I listen to and I also support the station with a monthly contribution. I think that are community would be adversely effected if K-Love were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming because so many people listen to the station as a source of support and encouragement in their daily lives. Without this station to listen to, a lot of people will lose an outlet that is family friendly and a source of great inspiration. K-Love is a station that is definitely working in the public's best interest at all times. They have encouraging stories from around the world and testimonies of regular people like me who share their stories daily. And don't forget the awesome music! Please keep stations like K-Love on the air. My life would be empty without this station to listen to
